

Elm Creek XC Ski Series – Race Report
February 6th, 2019

Fresh snow awaited skiers for the February 6 Elm Creek races. It was a small field of 11 skaters and 8 classic skiers. However, everyone was able to take advantage of the full 5K lit loop of Valley and Northern Lights. Roddy McEwan took a double-header with the top spot in the men's field of both races, with Clayton Keim the second place male skater, followed by Peter Cornell. Artie Huber double-poled his way to a second-place men's classic finish, with Jay Wenner in third. For the women, regular Jenna Ruzich took top podium spot in skate, with Alissa Johnson and Emily Muellner in a tight race for second and third, respectively. Maria Hauer took the honors in the classic women's field, with Emily M. climbing up to second, and Jenna R. landing on the third spot. There are two more weeks remaining in the series, and the snow forecast looks promising; come and get your ski on!
